The world may change.
The way we care never will.

LONG TERM CARE INSURANCE 101

Similar to car and home insurance, Long-Term Care Insurance is certainly beneficial if the need arises. You may ask yourself, "When will I need it?" Most policies will pay once any of the following Activities of Daily Living or ADLs, are compromised: bathing, dressing, eating, transferring, toileting, continence. The need for Long-Term Care Insurance has tripled since it's introduction in 1960. Planning ahead is vital and the earlier you start the better rate you get. Contact our office for more information.

To Mask or Not to Mask, Is The Question

Governor Ron DeSantis signed an executive order restricting the ability of Florida city and county governments' to impose coronavirus emergency orders, including mask mandates. The order states that, "Florida will favor a presumption of commercial operation and individual liberty." However, the order does not impact the policies of private businesses and the Florida Department of Education, so some spaces have maintained their restrictions. On July 28, Mayor Daniella Levine Cava announced that Miami-Dade County will require masks be worn inside county facilities by all individuals regardless of vaccination status.

The moral of the story is let's all be cautious and safe. Don't let your guard down.

Tune in to Walt of Priebe Investment Plans from 10am-10:30am every Wednesday on 1470AM, 95.3FM and 103.9FM dials and 8am-10am every Sunday on your 1230AM dial.

RECIPE CORNER

Stay cool this summer with ...

Frozen Lemon Pops

½ cup plus 1 ½ cups water (2 cups total)
½ cup honey
½ cup lemon juice
Thinly sliced lemon
Add chopped basil for a twist

Make a simple syrup by heating ½ cup water in a small saucepan until boiling. Remove from heat and stir in the honey. Once the honey is dissolved, stir in ½ cup lemon juice and the remaining 1 ½ cups water. Pour the mixture into the frozen pop molds. If desired, put thin slices of lemons and basil into the molds for added flair and punch of flavor. Freeze. If using sticks, after 2 hours, remove from the freezer and insert the sticks and freeze for an additional 3 hours. If handles are a part of your molds or your mold cover has a slit for the stick, then skip this step. Once completely frozen, remove from freezer and remove the frozen pops from the molds. Store them between pieces of wax paper in an airtight container in the freezer. (Be sure to unmold your frozen pops – if you wait days or weeks, they will be much harder to get out.)
